

Seatrax Gantry Air Tugger

for boom suspension

The sizeable cranes on deepwater facilities require long booms with high self-weights.

As a result, field operations are faced with handling greater diameter boom suspension ropes of significant lengths. It can become a difficult undertaking to install boom suspension cable in the field.

Seatrax now offers an air tugger winch package, mounted at the top of the gantry to make installation safer and easier.

The package includes the air tugger winch, mounting brackets, winch controls and air lines.
